

INTRODUCTION TO THE KEMETIC MYSTERY SYSTEM INITIATION PROCESS

What does initiation entitle me to?

Initiation is a process by which an individual becomes a formal member of the Shrine. This process includes fasting, reading, study, and prayer. It is a process of self-improvement and self-reflection. Initiation provides clarity to the understanding and meaning of being a practitioner of Kemetic spirituality as represented by the Shrine of Ma'at. This membership entitles a person to be included in a membership directory, and to receive certain identifying items that designate them as members of the shrine including a pendant, certificate, and other initiation artifacts only given to these members.

What does initiation entail?

Initiation is a 14-week process which occurs once a week for 2 hours that requires self-discipline and daily preparation. This process is one that should not be taken lightly, as all who request it are not all accepted. The chart below is a sample of the week-by-week process.
